Movement Risk and Faith

Pastor Mark Jeske

If we study faith in the lives of Bible characters we would see that God would often lead them into the unexpected, the unfamiliar, and the unknown." Everything in us resists the call into the risky places of faith. We would rather rely upon our own abilities and knowledge, preferring to remain in the familiar surroundings we are used to, where we think we know how to handle life. Yet God regularly calls us away from the familiar situations and to those places, like Abraham, where we must rely upon God.

Understanding Our Limitations

Mrs. Tracey Lampe

Even though you might recognize or sense some limitations on your life; your occupation, ministry or finances, do you really believe that God will give you the desires of your heart? Do you find your delight in Him, and have you come to really trust Him. The limitations that are set in place by God can also as easily be removed by Him, when He knows you're ready to advance to the next level of maturity.

Faith building interjected throughout the rally day. Speakers are held to 30 minute presentations to leave time for group interaction and questions.

Total Commitment For Christ

Pastor James Skorzewski

It is natural and instinctive for all of us to think about ourselves first: our own needs and interests, health and feelings, protection and pleasure. But everything changes when we surrender our lives to Jesus. We are to live for Him even though we continue to struggle daily with the flesh, we can remember the simple guide that Paul gave: We are to have a complete and total commitment to the Kingdom of God. This applies in every part of our lives.

Fully Engaged Living For Christ

Mr. Luke Thompson

An earnest expectation and hope of living a full life filled with unknowing, extreme adventures. We know that our perspective of expectation is not in our own strength, it is not in our acquired ability, or is it based our learned academics, but solely in Christ. Our hope is place in God alone who can save and guide us. We must not be afraid of what lies ahead of us.

"Fully Engaged Living through Christ"

Let go— Breaking Free of Past

Satan attempts to keep us slave to the sins of the past that God has forgiven and forgotten! There's no reason to allow these things to hold power over you but It's human nature to regret mistakes that we've made...and in itself that's not necessarily a bad thing...but it's also a place that the Enemy can swoop in and use it to dull our effectiveness for Christ.

Let go— Breaking Free of limits

It is the Biblical duty of every generation of Christians to see to it that the next generation hears about the mighty acts of God. God does not drop a new Bible from heaven on every generation. He intends that the older generation will teach the newer generation to read, meditate, think, trust, obey and rejoice.

Let go— Breaking Free of fear

Why am I here? What is God's purpose for me? This is a beautiful and wonderful question to ask, for it opens the pathway for us to return Home to the depth of our divine connection with spirit. The longing in our heart to know what God's purpose is for us, begins to activate a new direction in our lives.
